HELPFUL TIPS:

1. It is important that you read your WPRA Rule Book regarding releases. The following are highlights.
2. You must notify Procom no later than three 3 hours prior to the performance in which you are up. (If releasing out of a morning slack, notification must be 3 hours before the prior night's performance. If no prior night performance, it must be before 5:00PM MT of the prior day.)
3. You are allowed 2 releases per rodeo year. A release may cover several rodeos and the cost is $15.00 per rodeo. NOTE: It is your responsibility to notify Procom of the rodeos already entered in order to be released.
4. When a contestant releases they are not eligible to compete for 7 FULL days, beginning with the first performance the release is used. You may continue to enter events that have entry closings during this time. Example: if release is used for the first competition scheduled for the 5th of the month, the first day you will be eligible to compete will be the 12th of the month.
5. When you release out of a rodeo it is for the whole rodeo.
6. If contestant competes in less than 7 days, it is a major rule violation.
7. If you use more than 2 releases in a rodeo year is a major rule violation.
8. You must send a release statement to the WPRA Office within 7 business days from the performance you are releasing. If the WPRA Office does not receive your statement in that time period, you will be assessed a $25 fine.
9. Release statements must include name, card #, rodeo(s) you're releasing from and their dates.
